

A Learning Management System (LMS) allows teachers to create an online class, add assignments and assessments, and communicate with students. The LMS allows students to access the course and course resources online, complete assignments, and communicate with the instructor. Learning management systems can be used to facilitate online courses, or to foster a blended learning experience.

Mohammad Ali Jinnah University has a credit to adopt an e-learning mechanism of LMS through internationally recognized MOODLE. MOODLE is a market competitor LMS software around the world, having a share of more than 70% globally and by using this LMS you can become an LMS-oriented teacher.
